

Experience in store

A subsidiary of F Ramada of Portugal - Storax Racking Supplies was formed in 2003 to supply a wide range of Ramada products, solely through trade outlets in the UK and elsewhere in Europe.

The founding members of Storax Racking Supplies are all ex-employees of Dexion Ltd. Collectively we offer more than 100 years's experience of the industrial storage sector. Having worked in different areas of the business, our varied knowledge and experience enable our team to provide accurate product information, technical design advice, a prompt and efficient order-processing service and reliable customer support from the quotation stage to completion of every order. Our warehouse staff pride themselves on their excellent record for accurate picking and clear, careful packing.

Working out of our Hertfordshire office and warehouse north of London, we continuously adapt our product offering and services to respond to the changing needs of our customers. We can offer a wide range of racking, shelving and associated accessories form stock, and a made-to-order service from the factory in Portugal for non-standard sizes and colours.
